New Model Coupe

The latest of the Chevrolet line is the five-passenger coupe, with de Luxe equipment throughout, including the chromium-plated radiator grille. The upper photograph shows a side view of the car. In the center is the baggage compartment in the rear, and below the wide door is shown. Chevrolet dealers now have the new models on display.

Watching 'Em Legislate

Sidelights on Our Salons Observed This Week for the Torrance Herald by the United Press

SACRAMENTO—In the Assembly, Speaker Edgar C. Levey presides majestically from his seat in a high-backed chair. In the Senate, Lieutenant Governor Frank F. Merriam spins leather cushions, and perches atop a small three-legged stool.

During an argument over commercial fishing for striped bass, Assemblyman George E. Gillett inquired brightly: "Just what is the life of a striped bass, Mr. Hornblower?" "Do you mean what is its age when caught?" countered Hornblower. "If you can answer your question better than mine, go ahead and do it," replied Gillett.

A bill providing for appropriation of $100,000 for California's exhibit at the 1933 World's Fair in Chicago was before the Senate Finance committee. Senator Talant Tubbs, San Francisco, suggested an amendment to send 33 members of the State Senate to the fair at the state's expense.

Although his desk is crowded with costly gold and silver fountain pen sets, Governor Rolph still uses an old-fashioned cork-handled pen to sign letters and bills. He loads the pen heavily with ink, and signs his name with a real "John Hancock" flourish.

Senator E. H. Christian, Hayward, had just completed a rather vitriolic attack against the activities of lobbyists. "But, Senator," replied Senator W. P. Rich, Marysville, "if it wasn't for the lobbyists how would any of us know what the bills are all about?" "And furthermore," added Senator Charles H. Duell, Chico, "if a senator isn't strong enough to get rid of a lobbyist he doesn't want, he has no business in the legislature."

Senator Ralph E. Swing, San Bernardino, was suffering from a throat ailment and could barely speak above a whisper at a committee meeting. "Hi," commented an unidentified colleague, "a few more senators would lose their voices like that, maybe we could adjourn May 1st instead of the 15th."

Hugh McKevitt, San Francisco attorney, was making an eloquent address about a bill before the Senate Labor and Capital committee. He was just reaching a dramatic climax after 20 minutes of argument, when he was interrupted, ever so politely, by Senator J. M. Inman, Sacramento, "but are you for or against this bill?"

Assemblyman Lucius Powers Jr., Fresno, speaking before the Government Efficiency committee, asserted that "piano tuning was more than a calling—it's an art." This plea for approval of his bill creating a state piano tuners' board was answered by a flood of suggestions for other examinations: boards for everything from beetles to "who work on the shoes" to mechanics who "tune" motors. Incidentally the bill was voted down.

Mrs. Tallaksen Dies Friday A. M.

LOMITA, Calif., May 1.—Mrs. Frank T. Tallaksen passed away Friday morning at an Anaheim hospital. Death was due to an injury received while on a visit to her native land, Norway. Funeral services were held Monday morning and interment took place at Roosevelt Memorial Park.

Thirty-five years ago Mrs. Tallaksen came to America with her husband, the late Capt. T. T. Tallaksen. For many years the family lived in Pasadena and San Pedro, and when several years ago the Captain retired, due to injuries received while acting as port pilot, they moved to Harbor City to make their home with a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Atkinson at 3325 25th street. Less than two years ago the captain passed away after months of suffering.

Six daughters and seven grandchildren survive Mrs. Tallaksen, two of whom, Mrs. Omar Beck of Anaheim, and Miss Laura Tallaksen of Harbor City, both born in Norway, served in the United States army during the World War as nurses. The other daughters are Mrs. John Fisher of Gardena, Miss Selma Tallaksen of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ole Holland and Mrs. Frank T. Atkinson of Harbor City.

"FAMILY ALBUM" PROVES SUCCESSFUL SKETCH LOMITA.—"The Family Album" presented by the Trio Helpers before the Rebekahs provided many laughs. Mrs. Alwina Ullman turned the leaves of the old album and gave the sketches of the living pictures. One lone man was permitted to take part, all the other male parts being taken by women.

L. M. Pollock appeared as Lomita Oddfellow and his wife, Rebecca, was Mrs. Lola Nelson. Trio Helpers who appeared in striking costumes of long ago were Mesdames Kastrop, Gertzen Robertson, Waite, Goodrich, Greig, Hoese, Nelson, MacPhail, King, Hudson, Luck, Tappin, Hunt, and Syrett.

"PAJAMA" DANCE PLANNED BY ROYAL NEIGHBORS

LOMITA.—A "Pajama" dance (No, no, we mean kitchen pajamas) will be given next Wednesday, May 6, at Odd Fellows hall by the Royal Neighbors. Mrs. Myrtle Brown is chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Maud Shrock, Mrs. Ragna Hansen, Mrs. W. Paige, Mrs. Beattie West, Mrs. W. Vaughn, Mrs. M. Luce and Mrs. O. L. Fink. The public is invited, and if you haven't any classy pajamas, come anyway. The committee promise a good orchestra and good eats.

Miss Elizabeth Hallinen has been substituting at Lomita school during the absence of Miss Frances E. Carpenter. Miss Carpenter was called away by the sad news of the death of her mother.

Constable and Mrs. Taber left Saturday for Texas on a vacation trip. They will be away three weeks visiting a daughter. Mrs. Maude Shrock will be in charge of the office during Mrs. Taber's absence, while Deputies Straight and Neff will have charge of outside work.

One of the most original affairs ever held at Narbonne was the annual banquet of the Latin club Thursday evening. The cafeteria had been transformed into a Roman home and here the members in Roman costumes were served Roman food by slaves and entertained with songs and dance numbers. Miss Albertine Larson, sponsor, arranged the clever entertainment and members of the faculty and Spanish club were special guests.

The Birthday tea to be given by the Lomita P. T. A. has been indefinitely postponed.

The same wardens continue busy in their drive against offenders of the abalone restrictions. A Flores and Sam Tocco were fined $25 each Monday by Judge Dennis for having undersized abalones.
